The SE2200 has become a modern classic! As used by Amy Winehouse!

Built like the world's finest musical instruments, every capsule is hand-crafted and individually tuned in our very own factory in Shanghai - and unlike other microphones with backplate or electret designs, the sE2200 features a true externally polarized condenser capsule, and therefore delivers the best possible performance in every aspect.

The sE2300 is the multi pattern version of the SE2200.

sE 2200 Overview

RF-SPACE

With a larger surface area, enhancement of sE's patented multi-layer technology, deeper air gaps, and more efficient materials, the SPACE offers great full-bandwidth absorption, isolation, and diffusion to help you gain control over your acoustic environment. Larger than our industry-standard RF Pro and entry-level RF-X, the added size also makes the SPACE filter perfectly suited for larger microphones.

RF-SPACE 2200 Overview

X1-S Studio bundle

Meet the X1 S, the new gold standard in affordable condensers. With a hand-crafted and individually tuned custom 1" capsule, high-performance electronics, an all-metal chassis, -10dB and -20dB pads and two low-cut filters, the X1 S has the sound and features you'd expect from a serious high-end studio mic, at only a fraction of the cost. The X1-S Studio Bundle contains all the essentials for the start of a great recording chain, including sE's simple but highly effective metal pop shield. RF-X Reflexion Filter and 3-meter mic cable.

METAL-POP Pro Metal Pop Filter

This unique metal screen is not simply perforated, but implements a slightly convex shape to redirect low-frequency air blasts to the side of the screen. The gooseneck holds its position at any angle, keeping you covered at all times. It will take a lot more abuse than a traditional fabric shield.
